IL GOLFO
Il Golfo della Spezia, detto anche Golfo dei Poeti è famoso nel mondo. Tale soprannome deriva dal fatto che nel corso dei secoli molti letterati ed artisti vi hanno risieduto: lo scrittore D.H. Lawrence, la scrittrice e pittrice G. Sand, il poeta Lord Byron e lo scrittore P.B. Shelley con la sua consorte Mary, autrice del famoso romanzo Frankenstein.

PORTOVENERE
Fortificazioni, castelli e chiese, ciascuno con lo sguardo verso il mare. Il monumento più rappresentativo è la chiesa di San Pietro che la tradizione, seppure priva di fondamento, vuole edificata sul tempio romano dedicato a Venere. Poste di fronte a Portovenere, prossimità dello stesso promontorio, le isole Palmaria, Tino e Tinetto.

LERICI, SAN TERENZO E TELLARO
Tre perle nell’estremo levante del Golfo dei Poeti. A San Terenzo l’abitato storico si stringe intorno al castello, piccola fortificazione seicentesca. Nella parte più orientale del comune, arroccato su una piccola scogliera, sorge Tellaro, piccolo borgo marinaro recensito come uno dei più belli d’Italia.

CINQUE TERRE
Cinque piccoli gioielli tra mare, scogli e vigni. Romaggiore, Manarola, Corniglia, Vernazza e Monterosso al Mare. Lungo la costa che da Portovenere prosegue in direzione di Genova, dove l’aspro paesaggio è interrotto da brevi insenature, ecco le Cinque Terre, separate dalla seguente riviera dal promontorio di Punta Mesco, posto a dividere Monterosso da Levanto. I cinque centri storici si susseguono in un paesaggio segnato da ripidi sentieri, filari di vite, muretti a secco a picco sul mare.

THE GULF
The Gulf of La Spezia, which is also called the Gulf of Poets, is famous worldwide. The name is because of the many writers and artists who have resided there over the centuries: the writer D.H. Lawrence, the writer and painter G. Sand, the poet Lord Byron and the writer P.B. Shelley with his wife Mary, author of the famous novel Frankenstein.

PORTOVENERE
Fortifications, castles and churches, each overlooking the sea. The most representative monument is the church of St. Peter that, according to the tradition, was built on a roman temple dedicated to Venus. In front of Portovenere, as a continuation of the promontory, the islands of Palmaria, Tino and Tinetto lie.

LERICI, SAN TERENZO AND TELLARO
Three pearls in the eastern end of the Gulf of Poets. In San Terenzo the historical town is clustered around the castle, a small seventeenth-century fortification. Tellaro, perched on a cliff on the eastern extremity of the town, is a small fishing village reviewed as one of the most beautiful in Italy.

CINQUE TERRE
Five little jewels amidst sea, rocks and vineyards. Romaggiore, Manarola, Corniglia, Vernazza and Monterosso al Mare. Along the coast from Portovenere to Genoa, where the harsh landscape is broken up by small embayments, the Cinque Terre are separated from the Ligurian Riviera by the promontory of Punta Mesco, between Monterosso and Levanto. The five historic villages follow one another in a landscape marked by steep paths, rows of vines and dry stone walls overlooking the sea.
